Part II: Selection Criteria – SAFETY PRACTICE AWARD

For each of the four selection criteria below, please provide a clear and concise response not to exceed two pages for a single criterion. Though supporting documentation is encouraged, the total number of pages such documentation can add to a submission is five. Any submission exceeding thirteen pages will be returned to the submitter, who, if the submission deadline has not passed, may elect to resubmit it, accordingly. A panel of judges will evaluate the responses received in order to determine which company (companies) best met the award criteria. Additional information may be requested by any judge from the submitter in order to verify or clarify any of the information contained in a response or in the supporting documents (Please note that any supporting documentation submitted will be used for illustrative purposes only and will not be used to judge the submission).

Innovation

Does the project, program, or organization involve the use of new technology, approaches, or methods superior to standard safety methods and practices? If so, describe this advancement/innovation, including any commercial products or services that have played a role. Highlight how these innovations contribute to a higher standard of safety and if they have the potential for industry-wide applicability.

Achievement

We welcome entries that showcase remarkable safety achievements, surpassing routine operational practices. Describe in detail, by one or more examples, the distinctive aspects of your safety initiatives that set them apart and have prevented injury, contributing significantly to the betterment of offshore safety.

Documentation

Please substantiate the entry by providing documentation of actual or reasonably anticipated tangible results. This documentation may encompass concrete outcomes achieved or expected, and may also include external or independent reviews evaluating the entry's impact.

Industry Adaptability

The project, program, or organization should be an inspiration or example for the entire industry. Please explain how this product, program or organization is translatable to other companies or could otherwise be useful to a wide segment of the industry.

Submission Instructions

Please email your submission with the applicable entry form in a pdf format to NOIA SVP of Communications Justin Williams (jwilliams@noia.org) and NOIA COO Catherine Brown (cbrown@noia.org). You should receive a confirmation email from NOIA within 48 hours of receiving your submission.

Please note: Submissions exceeding 13 pages will be returned. Please contact Justin Williams with questions regarding the SIS competition, the submission format, or if you do not receive a confirmation email.
